Dr. Wyman has decided not to make public the daily reports giving the details of new cases and deaths at Key West, but semi-weekly he will issue a statement showing the progress of the epidemic.

TRAINS CRASH

AT FAMOSO.

North-bound Passenger Hits a Local.

Mrs. Maggie Majors of Santa Monica is Killed.

Her Mother Badly Injured and Another Woman Dead.

Engineer Wright Scalded in a Frightful Manner.

Track-walker also Hurt—Disaster Apparently Due to Carelessness.

Mail, Express and Baggage Cars Wrecked.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 13.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tonight, at 10 o'clock, the regular north-bound passenger train crashed into the Porterville local mixed train at Famoso, killing two occupants of the caboose and probably fatally injuring two more. The engineer of the passenger train will also die. The killed and injured are as follows:

MRS. MAGGIE MAJORS, her daughter, caboose passenger, killed instantly.
An unidentified woman, name supposed to be Larue, Lellue or Loux, almost every bone crushed; since died.
A track-walker, name unknown, received injuries extent of which is unknown.

ENGINEER WRIGHT, hurt internally and frightfully scalded, supposed to be dying.
The accident was seemingly the result of stupidity. When the passenger was due, the local was switching on the sidetrack, the caboose and a few other cars being on the main line. The regular train came in on the track at the rate of thirty-five miles an hour, not having any business with Famoso, which is an unimportant point, and not being flagged.

Without slackening speed, the engine crashed into the rear end of the caboose, split it, and went through two freight cars in front. Then it left the rails and turned over on its side. The fireman jumped, but the engineer was caught between a lever, which twisted and the firebox. A steam pipe broke and he was being slowly cooked in that position when taken out. He has not spoken since.

The women were on their way to Porterville from the south. Mrs. Ross's home is in Porterville. Mrs. Majors had lived in Santa Monica for a year or two, and six months ago her husband left her there, going to Oregon. He was a gambler. She was returning to the home of her girlhood.

The unidentified woman is of small stature; thin, of dark complexion and hollow-cheeked. She was apparently about 35 years of age, and dressed entirely in black. Her only jewelry was a plain gold ring, and nothing about her person or baggage serves to throw light upon her identity. She was introduced by Mrs. Ross to a Famoso lady, yesterday, who remembers the name as given above.

The mail, express and baggage-cars were completely wrecked, but the messengers and agents were uninjured and no harm was done to the passengers beyond the incidental jarring.

ANOTHER ACCOUNT.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]
BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 14.—North-bound passenger train No. 8 on the Southern Pacific Railroad ran into the rear end of the Porterville accommodation train at Famoso, about twenty miles north of here, last night. Mrs. Maggie Majors of Los Angeles, Mrs. Ross, her mother, and Mrs. Larue were killed. Engineer Wright and Fireman Keller were seriously injured, and their condition is precarious.

The passengers on No. 8 were shaken up and bruised by the jar of the collision, but only one man received a serious injury, which took the shape of a broken arm. His name could not be ascertained last night. Engineer Wright, the professional stage actor, was killed. The fireman Keller was killed and the passengers collected at once and the work of extricating the dead and injured was quickly begun. Fireman Keller was hurled against the front of the engine cab and seriously scalded, but was not so badly scalded as the engineer. Engineer Wright escaped being badly bruised, but the injector pipes on his side of the boiler burst, and he was seriously scalded before he could be rescued.

At 1 o'clock this morning, however, Dr. Taggart of this city, who went to the wreck on a special train, gave him his opinion that the fireman and engineer would both recover.

The injured trackwalker was still unconscious at 1 a.m., but so far as could be ascertained his condition was not that of a dying man, and hopes are entertained for his recovery. Mrs. Majors and Mrs. Larue were both dead when taken from the wreck, but Mrs. Ross was still alive, although she died about midnight. The bodies of the three women were frightfully mangled and bruised, that of the woman supposed to be Mrs. Larue having hardly a whole bone left.

A Southern Pacific physician chanced to be aboard the passenger train, and superintended the removal of the injured to the depot waiting-room, where they were made as comfortable as possible until the arrival of the wrecking train, bringing physicians from Bakersfield.

The blame for the catastrophe appears to lie with the crew of the Porterville freight train, which was occupying the main track on the passenger train's time, and to make their carelessness more criminal, the passenger train was some minutes late. Famoso is not a time-card stop for No. 8, but the train either stops or is flagged there nearly every day.

Last night, however, there were no passengers for Famoso, and the train passed the station with its usual speed, not seeing any lights on the caboose. The tall lamps on the caboose were not lit, and the crew of the freight train were not readily discernible. The car was unprotected by a flagman, nor were there any torpedoes out. A sad feature of the accident is the anguish of the friends and relatives of the dead ladies, who were awaiting their arrival at Porterville. Mrs. Majors had been absent nearly a year, and her arrival was to be the occasion for a reception in her honor.

Engineer Wright has a family living in Fresno, and he will be taken there. Fireman Keller came here but recently from Los Angeles, and is thought to be unmarried, as he is quite a young man.

BLEW CYCLONIC GUSTS.

HOUSES PROSTRATED IN THE ISLAND OF BERMUDA.

Considerable Damage at the Military Camp—City Hall and the Public Gardens and Hotel Damaged. Worst Hurricane in Nineteen Years.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERMUDA, Sept. 13.—[By Atlantic Cable.] A cyclonic storm, the first of the season, hit the island last night. Houses were blown down and others were unroofed. The weather looked threatening early Tuesday morning, with a falling barometer. The storm began with heavy rain at 2 p.m., after which there was a slight lull for a few hours, with the wind south-south-east, and the barometer steadily falling. The wind suddenly backed to the east, blowing with cyclonic gusts. From 8 p.m. to midnight it blew with hurricane force, and was at its worst from 1 to 1:45 o'clock this morning, when, after a lull, the wind changed to the southwest, and the damage was done, houses being blown down and others unroofed. Giant cedars were uprooted, ornamental and fruit trees were destroyed, and wharves and small craft in the harbor were sunk or driven ashore. Cedar avenue was practically ruined, many of its trees being prostrated and others badly injured.

The communication was cut off with St. George's, and news from the western end of the island and the dockyard is not procurable at present. The telegraph and cable lines were down, and wires are down, causing a total interruption of business. There has been considerable damage at the military camp.

Denby and Worcester Receive Notice.

They Had Expected to Work Up a Government.

Nevada Cavalry Cannot Leave on Steamer Newport.

Prof. Schurman Makes a Statement on Philippine Affairs—The Nation Responsible for Peace and Order There.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MANILA, Sept. 14, 11:50 a.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Col. Charles Denby and Gen. Otis and Prof. Dean Worcester, members of the Philippine commission, have received instructions from President McKinley, asking them to return as soon as possible.

They will embark on the steamer Empress of India, which sails from Hongkong, September 26. It is not known whether the clerical force will return with them or remain here. The commission has just moved into new offices and expected to spend some months working on the establishment of a municipal government.

The Nevada cavalry was unable to sail on the Newport. They will take the next available transport.

ANOTHER VERSION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—A special to the Times-Herald from Washington says: "Col. Charles Denby, the senior civilian member of the Philippine Commission now in the Philippines, has cabled that he will sail for home as soon as he can complete the business upon which he is engaged. His departure will still leave in Manila Maj. Gen. Otis and Prof. Dean Worcester. The latter will continue his inquiry into the sociological and other conditions of the Philippines placed under his immediate direction. It is expected that he will sail for home next month." "The recall of Col. Denby and the return of Prof. Worcester is for the purpose of enabling the Philippine Commission to assemble in this city in November for the purpose of framing a report to the President which will be submitted to Congress with the President's message. Its recommendation regarding the character of government to be given the Philippines will guide the President in the preparation of his recommendations."

PROF. SCHURMAN'S VIEWS.

Important Statement by the Head of the Commission.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ITHACA (N. Y.), Sept. 13.—President Schurman returned today to his office in Cornell University. He gave out the following statement to the Associated Press on the Philippine affairs: "It is very important that the public should know the actual facts of the situation. These are what they are, and the American public should understand them, whether they agree with or run counter to the public's wishes. "First—It requires some effort to realize the vastness of the archipelago, which extends in triangular form from Formosa to Borneo, and Celebes through 16 deg. of latitude. Never going out into the Pacific Ocean on the east or the China Sea on the west, I made a circuit of 2000 miles, all south of Manila. This gives some idea of the difficulty of maintaining an effective blockade, as the coast line of the islands embraced in the archipelago is many more thousands of miles.

"Second—The multiplicity and heterogeneous nature of the tribes is something astonishing. Over sixty different languages are spoken in the archipelago, and though the majority of the tribes are small, there are half a dozen, each having over a quarter of a million members. The languages of these people are as distinct from another as French and Spanish or Italian, and the speech of any one tribe is unintelligible to its neighbors. These tribes are all civilized and Christianized, but small uncivilized tribes, among whom the Igorotes seem best known in America, inhabit the mountains in Luzon, and form a large part of the population of Mindanao. In this island also there is a large Mohammedan population, which is independent of the Mohammedans in the neighboring Sulu archipelago.

"Third—It is the Tagalogs inhabiting some of the provinces about Manila who are resisting the authority of the United States. Other civilized Filipinos are neutral, except where they are coerced by armed bands of Tagalogs, who seized upon their governments during the making and the ratification of our treaty of peace with Spain. It would be incorrect to assume, however, that these tribes are allies of ours. They are not; indeed, they are not without suspicion of the white race, of which they have had experience only through Spain. But there are men of intelligence and property, and the masses, when not stirred up by the Tagalogs, recognize the advantage to them of American sovereignty, and so many remain neutral.

"Fourth—The insurrection, though serious enough, is an experience has proven, is not a national uprising. Indeed, there is no Philippine nation. As I have already said, there is a multifarious collection of tribes having only this in common, that they belong to the Malay race. The inhabitants of the archipelago no more constitute a nation than the inhabitants of the continent of Europe do.

"Fifth—The United States having assumed, by a treaty of peace with Spain, sovereignty over the archipelago, became responsible for the maintenance of peace and order, the administration of justice, the security of life and property among all the tribes of the archipelago. This is an obligation which intelligent Filipinos, not less than foreign nations expect us to fulfill. Nor will the national honor permit us to turn back. In taking the Philippine Islands, we annexed responsibility. The fact that the responsibility is heavier than most people supposed it would be is no excuse for failure to discharge it. I repeat that the Philippine question is essentially a question of national honor and obligation."

IN REPLY TO A QUESTION AS TO WHETHER ANYTHING WAS LEFT TO BE FIGHTED OUT, PRESIDENT SCHURMAN SAID:

"In my opinion, much good would be done by a declaration on the part of Congress of the form of government to be established in the islands, or, even better, by Congress establishing a government for the Philippines, and have it put in force in all parts and among all tribes hostile to the United States. This would serve several purposes. It would distinguish between our friends and our enemies, and treat the former as give to our enemies a demonstration of free government on the American plan, a very important point when it is remembered that the Tagalogs claim to be fighting for their liberty. And I had better call attention to the fact that the government may be well adapted to one tribe may need considerable modification to be available for another."

Asked about the capacity of the Filipino people to govern themselves, President Schurman replied that they had no experience in self-government, and had no experience in municipal affairs, and even these were subject to control of the Spanish authorities. He thought, however, that each tribe might, subject to the supervision of a wise general government, manage in the main its own affairs.

WHAT IS JUST TO A TRUST?

Chicago Conference Will Try to Decide.

Less Than Half the Delegates Attended Yesterday.

Head of the Civic Federation Opens the Session.

New Jersey "Jumped On" at the Very Outset.

Knights of Labor Consider Their Quota Equal to a State—South and West Against Combination—Easterners Critical.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—The Civic Federation on the issue arose, abuses of trusts and combinations began here today with less than half the delegates appointed by the various States in attendance. New York, its delegation being headed by W. Bourke Cockran, and Wisconsin, were most numerous represented. The meeting took place in Central Music Hall, and was called to order by Franklin H. Head, president of the Civic Federation. The delegates listened to an address of welcome to Illinois by Atty.-Gen. Alkin, on behalf of Gov. Tanner who, by illness, was prevented from appearing in person.

Dr. Howard S. Taylor, city prosecutor, welcomed the delegates to Chicago on behalf of Mayor Harrison. With the progress of the speaking, it became evident that many of the delegations had come with firm convictions for or against trade combinations. The speech of Mr. Wooten of Texas, delivered during the afternoon, and hammering trusts in a merciless manner, aroused the wildest enthusiasm in the ranks of the labor representatives and delegations from many Western and Southern States, while the easterners generally smiled critically and kept their arms folded.

The attempt to round the somewhat shapeless mass of delegates into working form resulted in considerable disorder. Suggestions for the make-up of a committee to arrange a programme for the conference, and for a part of the house with such rapidity that it was with difficulty that the temporary chairman extracted the basis for resolutions which were finally adopted. This was not accomplished until W. Bourke Cockran, August Gans, a delegate representing the Knights of Labor, had become the center of a scene which provoked unrestrained laughter, Cockran joining.

The head of the New York contingent, in an endeavor to bring a little order out of the chaos, arose, while Gans, in a very loud voice, was declaring that his delegation was of more importance than that of any State. When the New Yorker began speaking, the labor delegates flashed from a hip-pocket a pair of opera glasses, and a chorus of "come on, come on," was heard, commenting occasionally in such a way that the merriment attained a volume which drowned the voice of the eastern orator.

It was finally resolved that the Civic Federation, through its chairman, Head, should conduct the meeting today, and that a committee on programme should be appointed, consisting of one man from each State delegation and one from each organization national in its scope.

John W. Hayes of the Knights of Labor created something of a sensation by declaring that "He did not intend to be classed with the New Jersey delegation, even if he did vote in that cradle of trusts."

Chairman Head delivered an address in explanation of the call for the conference. He said in part: "The Civic Federation of Chicago is a non-partisan organization embracing in its membership a goodly proportion of the active business and professional men of our city. Some months since, it realized that no topic seemed so widely discussed as what was designated by the general title of 'trusts,' and that, too, upon no current topic was there so widespread and general an ignorance and confusion of ideas. "It is not a trust or an anti-trust conference, but a conference in search of truth and light. With this end in view, the attendance has been solicited of men of every shade of opinion upon the general subject."

Prof. Jenkins followed with a paper under the caption "Problems Before the Conference." Prof. Jenkins questioned whether combinations of capital do really abate competition and how far an establishment which sells only a high percentage, say 75 per cent, to 90 per cent, of the total product, can secure monopolistic gains; whether combinations of capital and combinations of labor are the same in principle, demanding the same treatment by law; what effect the tariff laws have upon trusts and combinations; whether the patent laws should be so changed as to prevent the right of monopoly accruing to the patentee; how far railroad discrimination is responsible for trusts; whether or not the claim is well founded that combinations of capital are blessings to the general public in stimulating foreign trade; whether or not the over-capitalization so common in the organization of trusts is an evil, and if so, how it should be treated; the effect of combinations on prices of raw materials and finished products on the market, and whether the wisest form of legislation, should it be decided that there is need of state interference in the matter, should be considered.

"If legislation is to be chiefly regulative, will it be sufficient to secure publicity, or can something be done to prevent undue raising of prices?"

"A second question of no less importance is this: How far can such legislation be national under the general provisions of our Constitution regarding interstate commerce, and how far must the legislation be state? Could there be, within a reasonable time, national incorporation of great industries over which the Federal government should have some control? If so, would such control be advisable?"

The afternoon session opened with a paper by Prof. Adams on the same subject as his predecessor, Mr. Jenks. It was, in part, as follows:

"Industrial combinations, whatever their form, whatever their purpose, whatever their explanations, are matters of public concern. It is said we do not know of this new form of industrial organization to judge properly respecting it. If it be true, and if on this account trusts are to be allowed a probationary existence, it is the plain duty of the government to hold them in the mean time to strict account. If it be true, they claim; that is to say, the vanguards of a new industrial organization which holds within itself great industrial benefits, the sooner this fact is recognized by the public, the better for all concerned."

"If, on the other hand, there is danger in the extreme application of this form of organization to the government, certainly has a right to possess itself of all facts necessary for a judicial opinion and for effective legislation. When competition controls, the government may safely refrain from interference, or where the conditions of its exercise are such as to give one competitor an advantage over another, nothing remains but public supervision, and the most important, indeed, the essential agency for legislation or for administrative supervision is a thoroughly organized bureau of statistics and accounts, clothed with authority over the auditing departments of these industrial associations."

"The question before this convention is indeed a great question. It comes in many directions and embraces many considerations. It is, at bottom, a question of social theories and social ideas. Its vastness will be appreciated when it is observed that its judicious treatment will result in securing for the nation the completion of the industrial development of the past century, while to ignore or to fail in its solution, would result in substituting the wealth created by a hundred years of phenomenal development to the service of a class."

It remained for Dudley E. Wooten of the Texas delegation to stir up enthusiasm of the camp-meeting variety. He was frequently interrupted by cheering, and was rapturously received by his fellow-delegates from the Lone Star State upon the completion of his peroration. He said in part:

"Accepting in good faith that amendment which the heroic legions of the South resisted unto death on a thousand battlefields, we believe that neither slavery nor the color of the skin, except as punishment for crime, shall exist within the United States or any place subject to their jurisdiction. And we confidently assert that the commercial and industrial bondage being rapidly imposed upon the toil and talents of seventy million of American citizens by the syndicated wealth of a few great corporate monopolies is more dire and dangerous than the slavery which bowed the heads and burdened the backs of four million southern black men."

"And over and beyond these great written guarantees of equality and justice we look to the lessons of history and appeal to the authority of experience. We are told that the spirit of commercial combination produces golden rewards to the present tendencies of our economic system, we remember that no republic has ever survived the mercenary despotism of merchants and money changers."

John Graham Brockley of Cambridge, Mass., in "sticking closely to facts," as he prefaced his address, was received with considerable applause.

William Fortune, president of the Indiana State Board of Commerce, then delivered an address.

The committee on permanent organization met after the adjournment of the conference. The committee consisted of one delegate from each State represented, and each organization of general scope, including the following: California, Charles Dwight Willard; Arizona, J. C. Adams.

William Wirt Howe of Louisiana was selected chairman of the meeting, and after a short discussion, was elected permanent chairman of the conference, though three vice-chairmen each to preside during one day, were selected. It was a happy solution of what at one time promised to be a split. No one was willing to allow a permanent chairman to be appointed to preside at the sessions, lest he should favor some faction. It was urged that the chairmanship should change at each of the sessions. The chairman and vice-chairman method of disposing of the question was hailed with applause. The vice-chairmen selected were: Thursday, Dudley Wooten, Texas; Friday, H. V. Johnson, Colorado; Saturday, S. P. Corlies, New York; Ralph M. Fawcett, was elected as permanent secretary.

The following sub-committee on Program and Rules was appointed: H. W. Blair, New Hampshire; L. D. Sutherland, Nebraska; J. W. Gaines, Tennessee; J. C. Hanley, Minnesota; A. B. Davidson, Texas. The committee will make special rules to govern points of dispute, but ordinary parliamentary rules will generally prevail. After vainly trying to solve the question of a Committee of Resolutions, the committee adjourned until evening.

The opening of the evening session was delayed for some time, pending the report of the Committee on Program and Organization. At 8:30 o'clock President Head introduced Gen. Atkinson of West Virginia, who made an eloquent speech. Then Congressman John W. Faires of Tennessee presented the report of the Committee on Organization and Program as follows:

Permanent officers: Chairman, William Wirt Howe of Louisiana; first vice-president, Dudley G. Wooten, Texas; second vice-president, H. V. Johnson, Colorado; third vice-president, S. P. Corlies, New York; secretary, Ralph M. Fawcett, Chicago.

Special rules of order: First, that the conference shall hold three daily sessions, as follows: From 10 a. m. to 12 p. m.; from 2 p. m. to 5 p. m.; and from 8 p. m. until such time as adjournment may be had; second, that all papers or addresses shall be limited to twenty minutes. The report was adopted.

Chairman Head then introduced the permanent officers of the conference. Atty.-Gen. E. C. Crow of Missouri then spoke of the subject of "Insurance Combinations," and P. E. Dove, president of the Commercial Travelers' National League, spoke of the subject of "Trusts." Addresses were then delivered by F. E. Thurber of New York and Joseph Nimmo, Jr., of Washington.

ANTI-TRUST MEETING.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—A meeting of anti-trust delegates to the conference was held tonight in the clubroom of the Sherman House under the auspices of the local committee which has effected an organization for the purpose of bringing together the delegates opposed to trusts. While the promoters of the organization deny that they are attempting to get control of the convention, they admit that they would not object to such a result. The organization is to be organized in the "anti-trust" that they may "touch elbows in exigencies."

Several speeches were made by delegates and others in opposition to combinations, among the speakers being: M. L. Lockwood of Zanesville, Pa., president of the American Anti-Trust League; D. G. Wooten of Texas and Judge Fleming of Kentucky.

VANDERBILT'S ESTATE.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Cornelius Vanderbilt, who had been under the shadow of death for several years, and who was one of the most methodical of men, left a carefully-drawn will, but its terms are not known. His friends think it shall make provision for the charity in which he was interested. No estimate of the estate's value is less than $100,000,000.

There has been a reconciliation between Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr., and his parents, who opposed his marriage with Miss Grace Wilson, and it is doubtful if discrimination will be made against him. On the death of Cornelius Vanderbilt, his brother, W. K. Vanderbilt, became head of the family, and made arrangements for the funeral, and will see to the probating of the will.

FUNERAL SERVICES.
Burial Will Take Place in Family Tomb at New York.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The funeral of Cornelius Vanderbilt, who died yesterday morning, is to be held at 10 o'clock on Friday morning in St. Paul's church, in which Mr. Vanderbilt was a pew-holder. The service will be conducted by Rev. Dr. David H. Greer, the rector. Bishop Potter will be present. The clergy of the church will assist the rector. Dr. Greer will be at the Vanderbilt residence at 130 o'clock to conduct a short service of prayer before the church service.

The music at the church will be furnished by a choir of sixty voices. Immediately after the service the casket will be taken to the foot of Forty-second street, where a boat is to be in waiting to convey the funeral party to Staten Island for the burial at New York in the Vanderbilt tomb. The party is to be numerous enough to fill twenty coaches.

Senator Depew denied the report that he would conduct the funeral. Mrs. Depew said that she had suffered from shock, as was natural, but was in good health tonight. It is a death mask was taken tonight by a representative of Augustus St. Gaudens, who will make a bust.

There has been word from Alfred G. Vanderbilt, who was called to at Yokohama, Japan.

Mr. Vanderbilt's death will have no effect on the Vanderbilt property, said Mr. Depew today. "William K. Vanderbilt, with his brother's consent, took his position at their head two years ago, and he will be sold in the settlement of the estate."

DISTINGUISHED PALMBEARERS.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The palmbearers at the funeral of Cornelius Vanderbilt, Friday next, will be John H. Hone, George R. Fearing, Charles M. Depew, J. Pierpont Morgan, H. B. Lynd, Frederick Bronson, Samuel Barger, W. Bayard Cutting, George A. Crocker and George MacCulloch Miller.

AUTUMN EXAMINATIONS.
Number of Civil-Service Candidates Much Restricted This Year.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—The usual autumn examinations for appointments for positions in the civil service will begin today throughout the country, and continue until October 22. The number of candidates to be examined is much restricted this year, amounting to about only 30 per cent. of the examinations of last autumn. This is due to the fact that many of the States have their full quotas of appointees in the service.

There will be no examinations for clerks in the department or for railway clerks except in Idaho, Montana, Oregon, Washington, New Mexico, Indian Territory and Oklahoma, these being the only States not now fully represented in the service. In Delaware, Maryland, Montana, North Dakota, New Jersey, New York, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia there will be examinations for compositors in the government printing-office. The principal demand is for male stenographers and typewriters.

UNITED DEMANDS.
Fifteen Hundred Home Painters Go on a Strike.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 13.—Fifteen hundred of the Amalgamated Journeymen House Painters' Association went on a strike today. The union demands an eight-hour day at 35 cents an hour, time-and-a-half for extra work and double time for Sunday. Apprentices are apportioned at the rate of one to every five journeymen. The scale has been signed by 125 master painters, 150 refusing. Of the 600 journeymen painters in the city, 5122 belong to the union.

IN GOOD SPIRITS.

DREYFUS CHEERFUL, BUT STILL A SICK MAN.

Stomach Trouble Still Clings to Him—Labor's Assistant Calls on Him Twice Every Day.

Most of the Time in Prison Spent in Reading Correspondence. Guards Stationed All About Him.

Gen. Roget and Mercier Said to Have Offered to Demand His Release if the Matter Would Be Dropped.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.] RENNES, Sept. 13.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Capt. Dreyfus continues in good spirits, and his health is fairly satisfactory, although the stomach trouble still clings to him. Dreyfus visited his husband today, and came away looking cheerful. He spent about an hour with him. M. Labori's assistant sees him twice a day.

Most of the prisoner's waking hours are passed in reading correspondence and Paris literary reviews. He is under the same discipline as prior to the trial, and allowed to exercise daily. A canvas screen is now hung across the courtyard to prevent him being seen from the windows of the houses adjacent, and to prevent photographers getting snap shots at him.

A guard of four soldiers is posted in the prison yard beneath his window, and a sentry with loaded rifle and fixed bayonet is stationed on the wall overlooking the second court yard, where he takes his exercise.

DEMAND HIS RELEASE.
Conditional Offer Reported Made to Jewish Committee.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] BOSTON, Sept. 13.—The Post today announced that it has received the following dispatch from Paris:

"Gen. Roget and Gen. Mercier have offered, on the part of the army, to demand from President Loubet the pardon of Capt. Dreyfus if the Jewish committee will drop the matter, and on the condition that Dreyfus shall live away from the large cities of France for three years."

PARDON RUMOR DENIED.
[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] LONDON, Sept. 13.—The rumor which was current this afternoon that the Rothschilds had received word from Paris that Dreyfus had been pardoned was absolutely denied by them. They said, they would be absolutely impossible until the Council of Revision passes upon the appeal.

LEGION OF HONOR.
Proposed British Exposition to Boycott Paris.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.] LONDON, Sept. 13.—[By Atlantic Cable.] While the papers are full of letters from individuals and several firms, announcing their withdrawal from the Paris exhibition and urging the government to do likewise, the British government has no intention of taking any such step. It is said that it is also unlikely that the present agitation will result in any general withdrawal of British exhibits.

MINES AND MINING.

DATE OF ARRIVAL OF MINING ENGINEERS IN LOS ANGELES.

Electric Power for the Comstock Mines—A Find in Bear Valley. Improvements at the United Verde—Strike in the Dale District—Mining Notes.

E. H. Benjamin, secretary of the California Miners' Association, San Francisco, writes that the first portion of the special train of the American Institute of Mining Engineers will arrive from San Francisco in Los Angeles on Tuesday, October 12, at 8 p.m. The second division, containing the party that will visit the Yosemite Valley, will arrive in Los Angeles on Thursday, October 12, at 9 a.m. There will be about 170 in the two parties, and it is expected that they will spend all the afternoon of October 12 in this city, leaving in the evening for Arizona.

POWER FOR THE COMSTOCK MINES.

Mention was made in this column two weeks ago of a deal then under consideration for furnishing the Comstock mines, in Nevada, with electric power. The deal has been consummated and it is likely to prove of the very greatest importance to mines in that portion of Nevada. It is made with the Truckee River General Electric Company, which will also furnish the contracting mines with electric power for a period of five years.

In an article about it the San Francisco Chronicle says: "Thus far twenty-seven mining companies, owning properties in Storey county, Nev., all embraced in what is known as the Comstock mines, but also contracted for electrical power, and it is said that quite a number of mines which for years have found it impossible to work low-grade ores on account of the excessive cost of power will now take on a new lease of life and handle with profit the ore which has heretofore been cast aside as worthless."

"The electric company has acquired title to four miles on both sides of the Truckee River, which gives it all the water rights within that territory. An immense power plant is to be erected near the State line and electrical power will be generated not only for the operation of the Comstock mines, but also for the lighting of all the towns for many miles around, including Reno, Carson and Virginia City. A paper mill to be erected in the neighborhood will also be supplied with power from the same plant. The officers and directors of the electric company are: President, Mortimer Fleishacker; vice-president, S. D. Rosenbaum; secretary, Herbert Fleishacker; Allan Pollok, Frank H. Buck and A. J. Hechtman."

A FIND IN BEAR VALLEY.

The Ramona (Cal.) Sentinel tells of a mineral discovery recently made in Bear Valley, near Valley Center, which promises to develop into something of great value. That paper says: "While in San Diego a few days ago the writer saw samples of the ore which runs $4 in gold, with silver and lead to bring the value up to nearly $5 a ton. The ore is of a fine, siliceous, large, and it is perfectly adapted for smelting. This discovery will be of incalculable advantage to the mining interests of the county, for it will be a powerful factor in bringing about the establishment of a smelter."

IMPROVEMENT AT THE UNITED VERDE.

At the works of the United Verde Copper Company, at Jerome, Ariz., new buildings are being added as fast as ground can be made, says the Jerome News. The new fifty-foot addition to the east end of the smelter is now completed, and preparations are being made to add another fifty feet on the same end as soon as the foundation is made. Another and larger electric crane has been ordered. This will give them three cranes to handle the machinery and metal in the smelter. When the new machine arrives and is put in place a switch will be put in so that the cranes can pass each other. This will make the working of the machines much easier and allow the more rapid handling of them.

THE BLACK WARRIOR, ARIZONA.

The Black Warrior Company, in Gila county, Ariz., is reported to be nearly ready to enter the list of copper producers. A delay in the delivery of a consignment of sulphuric acid from Ventura county, Cal., was the cause of preventing the earlier starting of the leaching plant and smelter. STRIKE IN THE DALE DISTRICT.

Another strike is reported in the O. K. mine, in the Virginia Dale district, San Bernardino county, Cal. The strike was made on the 250-foot level, drifting south, where a four-foot vein of ore was uncovered that will, as reported, mill as high as $500 per ton. The Dale district will soon have a better supply of water for mining purposes, and with water there are many and good reasons for believing that the Dale will show that it possesses some of the richest ore bodies in Southern California.

THE WALDSTEIN PATENT.

The Salt Lake Tribune reports that Capt. de la Mar has brought suit in the Federal Court against the De la Mar Mining Company for infringement of patent. He claims to be the owner of the Waldstein patent for the use of zinc dust for precipitation of gold from cyanide solution. The complaint asks that he be given judgment for $75,000 as royalty on 75,000 tons of ore worked by the company with the proceeds, and that three times as much be awarded as damages.

BIG SALE PENDING.

The Los Angeles Mining Review says that one of the most important sales of mining property ever made in California is now pending, the property in question being the mines on the Mother Lode known as the Keystone Consolidated, and which consist of the Keystone, South Spring Hill and South Keystone. The first named has been a great producer, having in the past yielded gold to the immense value of $10,000,000, while the South Spring Hill has produced $2,000,000 in gold. The reason assigned for the sale is that litigation has for some time been threatened between the Keystone and the South Spring Hill, both companies claiming that the other has been working out of its territory, and it is thought that the best way to clear up all threatened litigation and consequent long-drawn-out idleness of the properties is to effect the consolidation of the properties and make a sale of them. The properties have been offered in Boston, and the price of them is stated to be $1,500,000.

DREDGING THE FRASER RIVER.

The dredging of river beds in British Columbia is likely to soon develop into large proportions. The gravel on the bars of the Fraser River and other large streams emptying into the show by actual test, that is, by sinking shafts to the bed rock, in many cases above the river, from 25 cents to $1.50 per cubic yard, and in exceptionally rich bars more; but at the lowest figure named gravel can be raised and washed at an enormous profit. The question of saving the gold, if being mostly fine, although not nearly so fine as that of Snake River or of the Columbia, is the main feature.

THE COSTELLO COPPER CLAIMS.

Advices from Tombstone, Ariz., are that representatives of the Calumet and Hecla Company, of Michigan, will be in Tombstone shortly to enter into negotiation for the bonding of the Martin Costello group of mines in Bisbee. If this deal is consummated it will be one of the largest mining sales in the Territory. Eleven claims are in the group, and the price is given at $500,000, 10 per cent. cash.

MILL FOR KINGMAN, ARIZ.

The Kingman (Ariz.) Miner says that a San Francisco company has, through its representative, John Teller, made an offer to the people of Kingman to erect a large stamp mill, if the citizens will, in return, extend to his company certain courtesies. Mr. Teller's proposition was, in effect, that his company would build a stamp mill at a cost not to exceed $10 per ton and would pay $5 per cent. of assay value. The citizens on their part were to provide a suitable site and a sufficient volume of water for the purposes of the mill. This the people have agreed to do, providing Mr. Teller on his part agrees that no greater charge than $10 per ton be made for the treatment of ore and that 90 per cent. or better be paid for all low-grade ores.

A BIG LAWSUIT.

The Denver papers give accounts of the big lawsuit just instituted at Cripple Creek by W. P. Dunham of Los Angeles and others against the Hull City Placer Company. Mr. Dunham recently had the company enjoined from taking out ore, and has now commenced suit for $800,000 for value of ore extracted.

MINING NOTES.

A miner's exchange has been organized at Colorado, Ariz.

The White Pine (Nev.) News says that New York capitalists have purchased the Star and Star of the West copper claims not far from Ely, Nev. The Cripple Creek Railway Company, capital stock $1,000,000, has organized at Denver, Colo., to build a railroad from Canon City to Cripple Creek, thence to Denver.

The Alaska Treadwell Milling Company reports a July run of 540 stamps for twenty-nine and three-fourths days, crushing 59,699 tons of ore, value $35,026, and 1219 tons of sulphur, value $2,563; gross value of bullion, $155,750; working expense, $38,500.

It is stated that the United Verde mines, at Jerome, Ariz., this year produce from 30,000 tons to 40,000 tons of copper. The daily product now averages sixty tons and upward; 1000 men are employed about the mines and smelters.

It is reported among mining men that there is a deal in process of consummation whereby the Santa Rosa mine in Riverside county, Cal., will change hands. The new owners will open up work in a thoroughly practical way, and expect to realize a good thing from the mine.

HAD FINE CLOTHES.

But Before She Could Wear Them She Was Arrested.

Yesterday the police detectives received a communication from the officers at Redlands, stating that a young woman named Emma McCoy had left there, taking with her a quantity of ladies' fine clothing belonging to others, and asking the officers to assist in apprehending her.

Later in the day Detective Steele saw a young woman enter an East Second-street lodging-house with a bundle in her arms. He followed her to her room, and after plying her with questions ascertained that she is the person sought for by the Redlands officers. She had a brocade silk skirt, three or four silk and satin shirt waists and a white Leghorn hat spread out on the bed. She claimed that the clothes had been given to her by a man named Smith in Redlands.

Steele placed her under arrest and locked her up pending the arrival of an officer from Redlands.

GRAIN-ELEVATOR WAR.

Fight Between Wealthy Firms Begun in Chicago Wheat Market.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—What is believed by many traders to be the beginning of an elevator war was started in the wheat market today. A scramble of shorts in September wheat early in the session added nearly 2 cents to the price within half an hour, and apparently brought to light a fight among wealthy elevator firms. Wear & Co., Armour & Co., and Peavey & Co. being the firms most vitally interested. The main body of speculators had little to do with the advance. It was evident, however, that a short interest existed in September.

The fight was over the possession of the cash wheat. Heavy selling of September was done during August in

SIR THOMAS LIPTON.

The challenger for the American cup, Sir Thomas Lipton, has arrived, and, with his yacht, the Shamrock, is a center of interest. Americans, of course, are anxious to know about the prospects for the Shamrock in the coming race, and all our people welcome Mr. Lipton in his coming, and wish him enjoyment—though not success—on his mission. Mr. Lipton is many times a millionaire, although still a young man. He is the son of a Scotch wage-earner, and was born in Glasgow. Less than forty years ago he was a messenger boy in a stationer's store. At the age of 17 he came to America as a steamer passenger. His work here was not profitable, and after spending some time in South Carolina, he worked his way to New York as a stoker, and then earned enough to take him home in the steamer. His parents had saved about $400, and this they invested in business for him in a small grocery store. He made a success of it, and started other stores. He went to London eventually, and opened a store there. Finally he had sixty stores in London, and there were 420 Lipton stores in Great Britain. He is the largest owner of land in Ceylon, where he employs 4000 natives. His palatial house in England. He is very charitable. At the time of the Queen's Jubilee he gave $125,000 to a fund to feed the poor of London, and he recently gave $500,000 to the Princess of Wales to open restaurants where the poor can get good food at low prices. He has made his success by dealing justly with all men. He likes America and America likes him, and even if he should win the long-challenged cup, he will still have the good will of our people.

LAUNDRY NUISANCE.

Flower-street Residents' Grievances.

Germain Pellessier and two Chinamen, Hong Lee and Ah Charlie, were arraigned before Justice Austin yesterday on the charge of violating the fire ordinance by conducting a laundry fronting on Flower street between Tenth and Eleventh, without first having obtained a permit from the Board of Fire Commissioners. They pleaded not guilty, and had their trial set for Saturday at 10 o'clock.

The laundry complained of adjoining the handsome residence of M. F. O'Dea, and is close to the residences of Dexter Sampson, Justice of the Peace, and other prominent citizens. A large delinquent Flower-street property holder.

the prosecution of Pellissier and the Chinamen, and considerable dissatisfaction was expressed because the trial was postponed.

Feeling is very bitter against Pellissier for selling his property to Chinamen. The building erected for the purpose is an eyesore to the community. The adjacent residents object to having their dirty linen washed so near home, and they will leave no stone unturned to prevent the Chinamen from moving to some other location.

Pellissier pretends that the neighboring property-owners did not object to the laundry while he was having the building erected. Their only kick then was that he was not consulting them. He was not. Push with the street. To satisfy other buildings, thereby losing much of the valuable space, and now they want to move out of the lot altogether. The property-owners in reply to this statement, however, stated that they had no objection to the fact that the place was to be rented to Chinamen. They thought it was only a slight shock and gave between the old handsome house, and converting it into a tenement house, the fact that the place was adding insult to injury. Their protest has been carried before the Board of Fire Commissioners, and the matter has been referred to Chief Moore for investigation. Phillips's excuse for moving out of the place was that he was going to build into a laundry, so that he could found the City Hall office closed when he

Unless the laundry nuisance is abated speedily, the Superior Court will be appealed to for an injunction. Mr. O'Dea is seriously contemplating a civil action against Pellissier for damages.

POLICE SIGNAL SYSTEM.

A Number of the Boxes Connected and Tested Last Night.

Thirty-five boxes of the new police signal system have been installed. The receiving desk has been placed in position at the Police Station, and the first reports were received through it last night by City Electrician Francis, who explained to the desk clerks and others the system of sending and receiving reports and the code of signals. Several of the boxes were tested, and they worked to perfection. Mounted Officer White had the honor of sending in the first signal.

The boxes contain a semi-circular plate on which the various calls are printed. Underneath is an arrow, and below the arrow is a lever. When an officer wishes to send in a call or a report he points the arrow to the proper place on the plate and pulls the lever. The call consists of two parts, a preliminary signal, indicating what is wanted, and the number of the box, indicating where it is wanted. As soon as the lever is pulled, a bell rings sounds at the receiving desk in the Police Station, and the nature of the call is registered on a tape by dots and dashes. All calls are stamped automatically with the year, month, day, hour and minute, indicating exactly when they are received at the central station.

The plate in each box contains seven divisions, or calls, as follows: Fast wagon, slow wagon, ambulance, telephone, officer's report No. 1, 2 and 3. When an officer wishes to send in a call for a fast wagon, he points the arrow to the division on the plate and pulls the lever. The call is then registered on the tape at the central station by being stamped with the number of the box from which the call is sent in. If the box is No. 35, it would be designated by three dots, a blank space, and five dots. A call for a slow wagon is indicated by a long dash and one dot; ambulance, long dash and two dots; telephone, long dash and three dots; officer's report No. 1, four dots; No. 2, five dots; No. 3, six dots.

Each box contains a telephone, as well as the receiving desk at the central station. If an officer wishes to communicate with the Police Station he sends in the telephone signal. Again, suppose an officer has sent in a call for the ambulance, for instance, and the desk clerk at the central station wishes to communicate with him, the clerk presses a button on the desk, which notifies the officer at the box to take down his phone.

"YOM KIPPUR" OBSERVED

JEWISH DAY OF ATONEMENT KEPT BY ALL HEBREWS.

This Evening's Sunset Will Close the Ten Days of Penitence Which are Known as the "Aseres Y'may Tshuvah."

With the setting of the sun yesterday, the Jews of every land gathered their places of worship for the observance of "Yom Kippur" or the Day of Atonement. The festival is the most sacred one of the Jewish year and will be rigidly kept until sundown today. During the twenty-four hours not a morsel of food is supposed to pass the lips and even water is to be eschewed. The idea embodied in the celebration is an expression of contrition and penitence for the misdeeds of the past year, and a request for the protection and guidance of the Supreme Power during future days.

The day was observed in this city by three congregations, representing the liberal, the conservative and the orthodox phases of the Hebrew religion. At the synagogue of the B'nai Brith, meaning "Children of the Covenant," the liberal Jews, who have discarded much of the ceremonial and ritualistic element from their services, observed the festival with prayers and music. The reading and responses were given in English. Rabbi M. G. W. Hellman, president of the congregation, sat upon the dais. The congregation chanted the responses, and the ceremonial robes served to recall the ancient Hebrew forms. The rabbi preached last evening on the subject, "What Judaism is Not," and this morning will speak on its antithesis, "What Judaism is."

The conservative congregation, which was originally organized for the express purpose of observing the festival, met at 6 o'clock in Kramer's old hall on Fifth street. Rabbi Alfred Arndt read the prayers in both Hebrew and English. The responses were given by a children's choir. Rev. Arndt chose as the subject for his sermon, "Repentance, Prayer and Charity, and the Evil Deeds." The services lasted about two hours. This morning the exercises will be resumed at 7:30 o'clock and will continue without intermission until sundown.

At Turnverein Hall, the orthodox Jews, known as "Kahal Israel," who still cling to the forms and observances supposed to have been used by the Israelites of old, held their ceremonial services. The dais was raised about six inches from the floor and the altar, covered with white cloth, was surmounted with silver candles. Mr. Morris, acting president of the congregation, occupied a seat on the dais, and Rabbi A. W. Edelman, clad in his rabbinical robes, read the prayers in Hebrew and the congregation chanted the responses. The sermon was preached in English from the subject, "The Jewish Pulpit in America." This morning there will be prayers in Hebrew and in English; prayers for the government and for the persecuted Jews of Russia; and a scriptural reading from the Pentateuch or the Five books of Moses. At 4:30 o'clock this afternoon Rabbi Edelman will preach in English on "The True Repentance."

At twilight this evening ten days of penitence, called the "Aseres Y'may Tshuvah," will come to an end. The period began with the festival of "Rosh Hashana," on September 4, which was supposed to be the anniversary of the creation of the world, beginning the new civil year 5660. Most of the Jews do not believe that this is the length of the duration of the world, but merely that the records certify to this period, and show that the creation occurred in the month of "Tishri" corresponding to our September.

The Jewish religious year is entirely separate from the civil year, and dates from the time the children of Israel left Egypt. The religious year begins in the Jewish month "Nisan," corresponding to April, and it is at that time that the Jews have their Passover of the Passover. The present year is numbered 5659 in the religious calendar. Instead of having a leap year the Jews regulate their calendar by a leap month, and this year will have thirteen months. By intercalary methods it is so arranged that "Yom Kippur" never falls on a Friday or a Sunday. This is because no burials are allowed on the day of the festival, or on the Jewish Sabbath, which comes on Saturday, and should the two days follow one another difficulty would be found in hot climates to keep the bodies and comply with the law.

Cerebral Apoplexy.

Cerebral apoplexy caused the death of Lawyer J. T. Kretzinger of Chicago, who passed away at the Hollenbeck Hotel Monday night. Such was the verdict of the coroner's jury at the conclusion of the inquest yesterday. Undertaker Howry has embalmed the body and will send it east this morning for burial at Austin, Ill.

The Richest Black Crepons.

The difference between "blister" and "overshot" is exactly the difference between "wear" and "wearout." Our crepons are of the blistered variety, that is, the raised patterns are woven separate from the back of the goods, stand out prominently, and will wear well. Overshot crepons can not be woven in such pretty designs, and the long threads of the filling are easily broken or frayed out.

When it comes to pattern loveliness, there are no prettier or more stylish patterns in Paris or London or New York than ours. We have the grandest line that any one store ever owned. Our buyer is just back, and he says that a certain Broadway, New York, merchant has some of our patterns in his window at 50c to $1.00 a yard more. Higher in price because the patterns are the choicest to be had, and he figures that people will pay more for swell patterns. We figure it differently. If we can show more desirable patterns at any certain price than our competitor, we will get more trade. The trade is certainly coming our way. We are selling scores of dress and skirt lengths every day. Everyone who sees the assortment is charmed. There is no getting away from the beauty of design and reasonableness of prices.

All grades from $1.00 to $5.00 a yard.
